2) GSCN Award “Best publication of the Year 2014/15?”

The GSCN has established a new award: “Best publication of the Year 2014/2015”! It will be selected in July 2015 based on the publications from July 2014 - July 2015. If you like to have a publication by you or a colleague to be considered, send a pdf version to the GSCN Office gscn.office@mdc-berlin.de. The first author will give a presentation in the presidential session at the GSCN conference on 10 September, 2015 in Frankfurt/Main. The award also includes an amount of 1,500 €. The awardees will be selected by the GSCN conference 2015 program committee and the executive board. Link: GSCN Award

3) Take a look at “Stem Cell Technologies in Germany” – the GSCN Annual Magazine 2014/2015

The new annual magazine of the GSCN is online as pdf in English and in German. Check it out and find interesting reports about stem cell technologies in Germany – from 3D printing of cells to model organisms, bio banking and gene editing. You’ll encounter a broad overview of the German state of art in stem cell technologies, locations and protagonists. And there are interesting GSCN-news – numbers, reports and events, activities and new materials of the German stem cell network of the past year!
